

8

DAYS

The Wedding of the Year is coming to a GV cinema near you 22.01.09

FANN & CHRIS MAKE A MOVIE called The Wedding of the Year

Exploitation Congratulations are in order?

The Cheapo Guide to Gourmet Food p52

Who wants Tom Cruise dead? p10

SUGAR, SPICE, AND EVERYTHING NOT-SO-NICE

When traditionally embarrassing products like condoms and feminine hygiene wipes get makeovers with pretty packaging, we can finally stop worrying about spilling the contents of our bags on the MRT train.

Flaunt Nipples nipple shades ($19.90)

Before makeover:

Ugly silicon patches which should never see the light of day.

After makeover:

A girly lipstick palette.

Love-Box condoms ($4.90) from convenience stores and supermarkets

Before: Boring foil-wrapped prophylactics.

After: A snazzy box of after-dinner mints.

Moxie tampons ($10.50) from Watson's

Before:

Bullet-like stumps of cotton. Not very sexy at all.

After:

Striped sweet tins. Hopefully some kid doesn't pick it up and go, "What's this?"

Flaunt Glamour Tape ($9.90 for 20 pieces)

Before: Pedestrian-looking strips of double-sided tape.

After: An adorable stationery set.

La Fresh female hygiene towelettes ($7.90) and men's deodorant towelettes ($7.90) from The Planet Traveller

Before: Wet tissues were never the paragon of aesthetics — they're either phallic-like rolls or flat-packed like those in Chinese restaurants, or come in a clunky box.

After: Chic individually-wrapped squares in stylish, discreet boxes.

WHERE TO BUY

Flaunt from Tangs Orchard Level 2; The Planet Traveller, #04-15/16/17 Paragon, Tel 6732-5172.

What's inside?

Pretty packaging hides awkward things.

